What jury has to say

"Indeed, it has been a pleasure to be on the panel of Jury for INDIASTAR recognition. This time I find comparing to all previous editions, entries are quite a lot. Even student nominations are very impressive. Innovations in all other categories and especially in Consumer category are very unique and mind boggling." - Mr. Kiran Prayagi

"This particular programme is special for me since we deal with design and it's a crucial part of packaging. Design has a recall value and I could witness some of the brilliant packaging designs here. IIP has given a wonderful platform for industry as well as students to go through the process of design print and production. Assessment was so interesting and I am thankful to IIP for such a great event. I congratulate all the winners who have contributed by best of their nominations." - Prof. Shubhanand Jog

"A lot of packaging developed with sustainable angles for consumer products. Issue of CPR has been found addressed in many of the designs. I am overwhelmed to see number of entries with the kind of quality of the packaging industry has churned out, I am sure we are ready to cater the global demands." - Deepti Kshirsagar

"Packaging has become an inevitable part in any product lifecycle and its' an honor to be associated with IIP for such a great event. A lot of thought process has been observed in innovation of packages and especially material research in terms of circular economy and sustainability is remarkable. Trend of moving towards more greener solutions which I noticed during INDIASTAR assessment is really appreciated" - Prof. Madhura Mahajan

"I feel proud to be a Jury Member of INDIASTAR which is an esteemed recognition programme of IIP. My primary criteria were protection, preservation, prevention of external factor as well as promotion and consumer connectivity. I observed that most of the designs were communicating while being sustainable in nature. Anything what is appreciated and recognized will nurture the future planet and IIP should be an epicenter for this thought process with the Industry. Considering the quality of nominations and jury assessment, I feel in coming days, INDIASTAR will break all records. IIP has really set a good milestone." - Prabir Das

"INDIASTAR 2024 will prove to be the moral booster for entire Packaging Industry. Innovation in terms of material, design, sustainability and students' efforts are well appreciated and this will become a root for Indian companies to enter and dominate ASIASTAR and WORLDSTAR Awards. 4s i.e. Safe, Secure, Sustainable and Smart packaging is the mantra and what I found as a Jury is people are tirelessly working around these 4S for continued innovation." - Dr. Tanweer Alam

INDIASTAR recognition is duly recognized and endorsed by the Asian Packaging Federation (APF) and the World Packaging Organisation (WPO). The winning of IIPs' INDIASTAR has also opened the doors for winners to compete with their winning entries for International Awards viz. ASIASTAR as well as WORLDSTAR.

And that's what the INDIASTAR is all about, promoting and encouraging excellence in packaging design, innovation and technology...
